Remarkable Cure of Consumption.

THE CURE OF THE LATE PRESIDENT JEREMIAH DAY OF YALE COLLEGE.

The Transactions of the Connecticut State Medical Society contain a paper from professor S. G. Hubbard, of New Haven, relative to the cure of the late Rev. Teremiah Day, former President of Yale College, of tubercular consumption, President Day during early life, gave little promise of long lite, and when in 1780, in his seventeenth year, he entered Yale College he was soon compelled to leave from pulmonary difficulty. He rallied, however, and was able to finish the course and graduate in 1795. He was very teeble, however, for many years. He became a clergyman, and in 1801 was elected Professor of Mathematics and Natural History in the College. But he could not undertake the duties. An alarming hemorrhage of the lungs prostrated him, which was treated "learnedly" by bleedings copious enough to have charmed even Doctor Sangrado. He went to Bermuda, where he was plied with digitalis to such an extent as almost to take what little life was left. He came back to his native town, Washington, Connecticut to die.

He suffered from continued hemorrhage and repeated venesections, till he happened to meet Dr. Sheldon, of Litchfield, who had made the treatment with iron a hobby. He expressed a belief that Mr. Day could be helped. Though the case was regarded as hopeless, the patient was placed under the care of Dr. Sheldon, who treated him with iron and calisaya bark, feediug him carefully with wholesome food. Under this regimen he soon exhibited indications of improvement; and finally, in 1803, returned home as one restored from the dead, in sufficient vigor to be inaugurated in the professor ship. He never afterwards exhibited symptoms of pulmonary disease, although he had been affected by it for more than twelve years. He lived till August, 1867, and was ninety-five years old at the time of his death.

The cavity of the thorax was examined to ascertain the traces of his former malady. Only about a pint of serum was found; the lungs were everywhere free from tubercle, and were apparently healthy. In the apex of each lung was found a dense, corrugated circular cicatrix, an inch and a half or more in diameter. Also, a third circular cicatrix on the left side of the lung, a few inches below the apex, each involving such a depth of tissue as to indicate that the vomicæ of which they were the remains, had been large and of long duration. Both lungs were slightly adherent to the apex.

Here then, remarks Professor Hubbard, was all that remained to mark the beginning, progress and cure of a case of tubercular consumption, occupying twelve years in its period of activity, and with its incipient stage dating more than three quarters of a century. A legible record, surpassing in interest and importance to the human race those of the slabs of Ninevel, or the Runic inscriptions.

MISSIONARY ATTACKED BY AN ELEPHANT -A correspondent of the Newark Advertiser says that Dr. House, an American missionary at Bangkok, Siam, has been severely injured by an elephant. He was on his way to a new station, in order to render medical aid to other missionaries. He was accompanied by his four native guides and three large elephants to carry the baggage, as through the jungles and mountainous country, this is the only way of procedure. When near the end of his journey, while passing one of the huge beasts, as he had often done before on the way, the animal suddenly turned upon him, and smote him with his trunk, laying him prostrate, and then with his great tusks tore his clothes and pierced his flesh in a terrible manner. One of the natives was on the neck of the beast all the time, and only descended and gained control over him just in time to save the doctor from being trampled to death. He lay under the trees where he was stricken down for two weeks, being himself his own physician and surgeon, with great fortitude sewing up his own wounds. In due course of time he recovered sufficiently to be carried to the end of his journey and the arms of his friends.

DEFALCATION IN STEWART'S N. Y. DRY GOODS ESTABLISHMENT. - A young man named Livingstone, who was in the employment of A. T. Stewart, and who represented himself as being the son of the Chief Justice of Scotland, has diddled that worthy and enterprising person out of an unknown sum of money by false entries, &c., and disappeared. Mr. Stewart has all the detectives of this country and of Canada after him, and is determined to have The account says:

"Within a year or two Livingstone took to drinking and fast living to such an extent that he was twice discharged, but, owing to his peculiar abilities and fitness for the duties required of him, was each time reinstated. These experiences do not seem to have taught him prubad to worse; kept a mistress in a fashionable and Washington streets; at the Kiln, or my up-town house of ill-fame, hired horses and house. No. 56, south St. Asaph st. carriages, and openly rode out with her to the Park, and on the Bloomingdale road; gave expensive suppers, and lavished money in similar dissipation. To account for his extravagances, he intimated that his parents in Scotland were wealthy and kept him supplied with means by frequent and regular remittances."

WHERE OUR GOLD GOES.—The London Telegraph of a recent date, says:

"A sum of £66,000 in gold was sent into the bullion office of the Bank to day. This amount mostly consisted of American eagles which had been refined, and a further large supply is expected to be taken there to-morrow.' We have a gold-producing country, equal to any in the world. We send our millions to Eagland to be melted up into sovereigns, while our people are condemned to endure the uni-Versal reign of paper money, worth not threefourths of what is expressed on its face. England has as great a public debt as ours, but her people are not compelled to endure the evil that afflicts us-that of seeing their coin go out by the millions to be melted into the currency

DACIFIC GUANO COMPANY'S (CAPITAL $1,000,000.) SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.

The value of this GUANO is now so wellknown and appreciated, that it does not require further commendation from us.

The Company owns the Guano Islands, and other sources of supply from which its raw matorial is drawn. Hence, this Guano, possessing ruch high excellence, can be brought into market at a price not exceeding that of the ordinary Super-Phosphates of Lime.

The large capital invested by this Company affords the surest guarantee of the continued excellence of their fertilizer, as the safety of their capital depends upon continued and permanent business.

Experience has shown that this Guano ripens the Wheat crop from five to six days earlier than the Super-Phosphates. It is the policy and purpose of the Company to furnish the best fertilizer that enterprise and capital, aided by the best scientific ability, can bring into market, at the lowest possible

Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now udge what is the cause of their declining health.

losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, ner-vous and emacated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, Cough, and Symptoms o Consumption. YOUNG MEN, Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and, if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should he snatched from all prespects and enjoyments of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemp reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own. DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those, who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional syruptoms of this horrid disease make their appropriate the constitutional control of the control of the constitutional control of the contr pearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs. dimness of eight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity till at last the palate of the mouth or the fones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commissera tion, till death puts a period to his dreadful suf ferings, by sending him to "that Undiscovered Country from whence no traveller returns.

It is a MELANCHOLY FACT that thou sands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant preteriders, who
